Passage 1

The ground starts to shake. Buildings begin to sway. Watch out-here comes an earthquake! Earthquakes are natural events. They usually happen very quickly. In fact, most earthquakes last less than thirty seconds. You may be surprised to hear that earthquakes are not rare. In fact, earthquakes happen every day somewhere in the world. Most of them are weak. There are times, however, when an earthquake is very powerful and causes a lot of damage. One strong earthquake can destroy houses, bridges, railroad tracks, and more.

Earthquakes are caused by the movement of huge pieces of rock under Earth's surface. The pieces are called tectonic plates. These plates are found in the top layers of Earth. Tectonic plates have rough edges and are always moving. Usually, they move slowly. But there are times when the plates get stuck against each other. If that happens, pressure builds up. When the two plates finally get "unstuck," they release energy. Often, a small amount of energy is released. That will mean a small earthquake. However, sometimes a lot of energy is released. When that happens, the earthquake that follows will be strong ... and dangerous!

- 66) The best title for the passage is
- 1) natural disasters 2) why earthquakes happen ?
3) damages caused by earthquakes 4) weak earthquakes
- 67) The word "release" in paragraph 2 is closest in meaning to
- 1) hold 2) resist 3) free 4) announce
- 68) According to the passage, earthquakes are caused by the movement of
- 1) rocks and mountains 2) earth surface
3) bottom layers of Earth 4) tectonic plates
- 69) All of the following about earthquakes are true EXCEPT that they.....
- 1) are rare 2) usually happen very fast
3) happen every day 4) can cause damage

- 1) rough edges 2) movements 3) tectonic plates 4) top layers of Earth

Passage 2

South America is one of the seven continents of the world. It is the fourth largest continent. In South America, you can find some of the most beautiful places on Earth. Two of these places are the Amazon rainforest and the Andes Mountains. Let's take a closer look at one of these two incredible places. Imagine standing in the middle of the largest rainforest in the world, the Amazon. You may look up to find slim sun rays trying to peek through the dense tree cover. If you look around, you may find colorful macaws, Howler monkeys, or lazy sloths. But you have to be careful! You don't want to run into a dangerous jaguar or a blue poison dart frog. These animals can kill you. And don't get lost either! The Amazon rainforest is very big. It stretches over eight different countries.

- 71) The author mentions Jaguars and dart to show that
- 1) the Amazon rainforest can be dangerous 2) they can kill you
3) the Amazon rainforest is beautiful 4) they run very fast
- 72) Which of the following, according to the passage, is not true about Amazon ?
- 1) it is largest rainforest in the world
2) it has a dense tree cover.
3) it is poisonous.
4) it is extended over eight different countries.
- 73) The word "incredible" in line 4 is closest in meaning to
- 1) realistic 2) amazing 3) huge 4) tragic
- 74) The Amazon rainforest is in
- 1) seven continents 2) Andes Mountains
3) the United States of America 4) the fourth largest continent
- 75) The word " these " in line 3 refers to
- 1) South America
2) the Amazon rainforest and the Andes mountains
3) closer look
4) the most beautiful places on Earth

Passage 3

Brad Ranson was a member of his New Jersey high school's swim team. Aside from going to the pool, though, he didn't belong to a gym or own expensive exercise equipment. He realized he had to find other ways to strengthen his body. "I needed to keep up my work ethic out of season in order to help myself when the season would start up again," recalls Ranson, now 19 and a member of the swim team at Hartwick College in Oneonta, N.Y. "I also found that just stretching generally made me feel better, even though I wasn't working out every day." Whether you hope to play sports after high school or not, you know how important it is to get exercise. But few teens can afford gym memberships or elaborate home fitness systems. That doesn't mean you're doomed to be out of shape until you've reached adulthood. There are plenty of ways to exercise without blowing your allowance-and many don't even require you to leave the house.

- 76) It can be inferred from the passage that Brad Ranson
- 1) owned expensive exercise equipment
 - 2) was interested in staying fit and healthy
 - 3) was used to going to a gym
 - 4) did not know how to strengthen his body
- 77) The author mainly suggests that
- 1) working out needs money
 - 2) you should afford gym membership to keep healthy
 - 3) you can exercise without paying much money
 - 4) being out of shape is the characteristic of adulthood
- 78) The word "elaborate" in paragraphs 2 is closest in meaning to

- 79) Which of the following may NOT be true about Brad Ranson?
- 1) He is a teenager.
 - 2) He studies in a college.
 - 3) He knows swimming.
 - 4) He is rich.
- 80) According to the passage, all of the following are true EXCEPT.....
- 1) Stretching is an exercise which can make you feel better.
 - 2) Gym membership is necessary for working out.
 - 3) For some exercises, you don't even have to leave your house.
 - 4) Getting exercise is very important.

Passage 4

Jody Naranjo is a potter. She makes pots out of clay. Her mother, grandmother, and aunts make pottery too. Naranjo is a Native American from the Santa Clara Pueblo group. She lives in New Mexico. Her work can be seen in museums across the country. Naranjo enjoys being a potter. She plans to teach pottery to her daughters, ages 4, 11, and 17. "I want to keep the tradition going," she adds. A tradition is an idea or a way of life handed down from the past. How does Jody Naranjo make her pottery? She digs three different clays out of the ground and mixes them together. "That makes a very strong clay," says Naranjo. She uses the coil method to make the pots. "It's like rolling snakes out of clay and joining them," she says. Then she rubs the pots with a stone to make them shiny. She puts the pots over a fire to make them hard. Afterward, she carves designs into them.

- 81) The best title for the passage is.....
- 1) Pottery in the United States 2) Native Americans
3) A Native American Artist 4) How to Make Pots
- 82) Which of the following is NOT true about Jody Naranjo?
